About the Ara Resting Chair:

Crafted at our workshop in Vejen, the Ara Resting Chair embodies both elegance and comfort, adhering to the principles of traditional Danish craftsmanship. Although intended for the contract market, the chair also blends well into private homes due to its inviting appearance.

It is notably stable, offering substantial support and comfort, even when getting up from the chair. The chair remains steady during use and when leaned upon, ensuring it doesn't tip over. The frame is mortised, doweled, and glued together, eliminating the need for retightening, and ensuring long-lasting durability. The design is simple and Nordic, featuring clean lines and minimal stitching, which also promotes hygiene.

The series is available in certified solid oak or beech and offers a range of options and customizations. The series is produced at our own workshop in Vejen.

The chair is available in two different heights and in either an upholstered version or a woven version with natural cord. The taller variant includes an adjustable neck pillow, enhancing both functionality and comfort.
