Iko Bench

The new Iko Bench is a simple and versatile bench designed by Friis & Moltke in 2022.

The simple yet sturdy construction in solid wood ensures durability and adds stability without making the bench appear heavy. Adding to the function is the upholstered seat which provides good support for the user and ensures great seating comfort.

The bench is available in two different lengths and is manufactured in Denmark with a solid oak or beech frame. The backpiece is made from solid oak and emphasizes the exclusiveness of the high-quality materials.
